THE AUSTRALIAN HERITAGE INDUSTRY ABROAD

A ONE-DAY SYMPOSIUM

SATURDAY 27 JULY 2002

'STONINGTON', Deakin University

221 GLENFERRIE ROAD, MALVERN, VICTORIA

In September 1999 Australia ICOMOS and AusHeritage ran a very successful mini-conference on 'Australian Heritage Professionals Working in Asia' at Deakin University's Stonington (or Toorak) campus. Some of the papers later appeared in the 'Asian Connection' issue of Historic Environment (v. 15, no. 3, 2001).

Another one-day symposium is now being offered by Australia ICOMOS and AusHeritage on 27 July 2002 at the same venue. The aims of the meeting are:

- * to discuss some of the issues confronting cultural heritage practice working in the Asia-Pacific region
- * to hear the ways some Australian practitioners have dealt with those issues in recent projects
- * to consider and comment on the AusHeritage draft paper 'The Australian Heritage Industry 2001-2015: Australia's Export Industry for the New Millennium'. Towards a Heritage Industry Development Policy' (April 2002).
