2) Loving it to Death: Sustainable Tourism at Historic Places Port Arthur 25-28 November 2004

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Loving it to Death web site is now up and running, and on-line registration is now active at www.lovingittodeath.com

We've had a huge amount of interest from potential delegates wanting to register and enquire about the conference. The web site should provide all the details you require.

The deadline for the Call for Papers has been extended, and those wishing to submit a paper have until 9 July 2004 to do so.

We have limited registrations available to the conference, with delegate numbers capped at 170. If you are planning to register, we suggest that you do so as soon as possible.

We hope that you enjoy the new web site, and should you decide to register for the Loving It To Death conference that you participate fully in all the activities, beginning on Thursday afternoon through till Sunday.

If you have any queries regarding this conference, please contact Leishman Associates, Conference Managers on (03) 6234 7844.

4) Earth Build 2005 Call For Papers - deadline approaching

The Faculty of Design, Architecture and Building at the University of Technology, Sydney extends an invitation to all researchers/practitioners involved in earth building to submit papers for the EarthBuild 2005 conference. The conference will be held at the university campus on 19th and 20th of January 2005, with site visits planned for the 21st of January.

Those wishing to present a paper at the conference should submit an abstract of not more than 500 words with title and name of the author. Separately please provide us with your name and full contact details (address, organization, tel/fax, email etc.) as well as a short description of your involvement with earth building.

Contributions for a 20-minute oral presentation at the conference will be selected on the basis of the abstracts submitted. It is intended that refereed and non-refereed papers be presented at the conference and all contributions will be published in the conference proceedings.

The conference language will be English.

Closing date for submissions of abstracts for papers is 1st July 2004.

Abstracts and enquiries should be emailed to g.moor@uts.edu.au

Conference information will be regularly updated on the Earth Building Research Forum web page.
