2) Update for Australian ICOMOS members attending the General Assembly in Xian

The year is racing by! Hopefully many people have now completed their registration for the General Assembly, and are firming up their travel arrangements and accommodation.

The deadline for the early registration fee has been extended to 17 July 2005. There is a substantial saving for people who register before that date - so everyone is encouraged to register NOW.

We have received advice that the organisers of the post-conference tours have confirmed that all advertised tours WILL go ahead (ie. even though some may have small numbers). However, they need to know the level of interest for each tour urgently, so please complete your tour registrations and forward them to the organisers as soon as possible!

If you are still thinking about attending, but aren't sure, we would like to have you on our list. If you haven't already done so, please send an email to Sue Jackson-Stepowski, the Australia ICOMOS Executive Committee member who is looking after the circulation of information to Australian participants. Her email address is stepowsk@tpg.com.au.

4) Derek Hallam Website

We have been requested by Derek Hallam to advise you of a web site he has established to put forward his personal views on the current situation in the heritage arena in Australia. Derek's current position apparently gives him little opportunity to share views directly but he would like to see his views developed over many years of management and conservation of heritage places available for consideration. You can access the site at members.optusnet.com.au/~derekhallam/index.htm.
